

_prologue

Raw IP packets form the base of an audiovisual experience. All data mangled within the UDO_ System is taken from the net next to the node it is running. Technology is from so-called Security Experts. Data dropping by transforms audio and video material to show a way of understanding and feeling the pulse of the net. Beware: Data is collected and an autocreated collaboration emerges by itself.

_system

Data is collected via the plugins of the eth0 library, a plugin set for packet handling in pure data (pd). Recipients are participants through their browser technology be it of any vendor. Viewing the stream should work in quicktime player at least - MPEG4. More UDO__{based} performing moments will happen during 2003 (and be announced here).
